DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 13 and 15 are objected to because of the following informalities: On line 2 of Claim 13 it reads "the marker of Figure 1" although there were no drawings submitted. The examiner speculates that applicant meant "Claim 1" rather than "Figure 1" and therefore "the marker of Figure 1" should be changed to --the marker of Claim 1-- Claim 15 is a duplicate of Claim 14 and therefore should be cancelled or contain added limitations. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 2 recites the limitation "the ink" on line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claims 1-8 and 10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Palasis (U.S. Patent No. 6,689,103).

Claims 1-8, 10-13: Palasis discloses a marker comprising a housing 22 and a reservoir 26 filled with a substance or "contrast solution" ink which, when dispensed is radiopaque, the ink being visible to the human eye and capable of marking human skin or commercially available surgical film. The substance includes a heavy metal, such as barium and is primarily a liquid and is erasable, biocompatible, and non-toxic. Palasis discloses providing the marker of Claim 1 and indicating an operative site using the marker and subjecting the site to x-ray exposure ("fluoroscopic equipment") for the purpose of comparing the indication to one or more internal structures associated with the procedure (Figure 1, col. 7, lines 48 to col. 8, line 15, col. 9, lines 1-4, col. 11, lines 12-23).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 9 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Palasis (U.S. Patent No. 6,689,103) in view of DeSena (U.S. Patent No. 6,198,807).

Claims 9 and 14: Palasis discloses the claimed device except for the substance being primarily a powder and the step of indicating an operative site using the marker includes marking a surgical film and erasing an indication if not optimized for the procedure.

DeSena teaches a radiopaque substance being primarily a powder and the step of indicating an operative site using the marker includes marking a surgical film 36 (Figure 5, col. 3, lines 45-60, col. 6, lines 18-48, col. 7, lines 22-39). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to provide a powdered substance and marking a surgical film, as taught by DeSena, since it was known in the art that powder is minimally invasive and easily removed from the skin or surgical film when undesired, and that using a marked surgical film is also minimally invasive and easily removed from the surgical site being x-rayed. Although DeSena does not teach erasing an indication if not optimized for the procedure, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art since it was known in the art that the ink is erasable and commonplace errors in marking may be conveniently corrected by erasing them.
